Does outfox the market have a smart meter?

Joined Outfox The Market (OTM) in October 24, having seen their tariff - Fix'd Dual Oct24 v1.0 - recommended on here. Tariff required a smart meter. Despite this, they still asked for monthly manual readings, which I supplied and was supposedly billed accordingly for. Initial direct debit was €66 which never changed.

Does outfox energy supply energy through prepayment meters?

No, Outfox Energy does not currently supply energy through prepayment meters. It says: 'We are working on an offering for existing customers that are struggling to manage their energy spend, and this will be extended to new customers in due course.'

Does outfox energy have an app?

The company claims to 'pride [itself] on being able to offer that authentic touch to [its] service that many larger companies can no longer do' - so we've put that promise to the test and asked its customers what they think. Outfox Energy customers can use its app to submit meter readings, check their balance or make payments.

Can I view my energy usage history with a smart meter?

Yes, you can view your energy usage history with a SMART meter. Outfox Energy provide an online and mobile app that allow you to see your usage data over time. Have a question we've not answered? Let us know and we'll do our best to help.

A month ago, I contacted them to ask why, if I was on a smart meter tariff, they were still requesting monthly manual readings. They then told me they hadn't been taking smart readings after all.
